CNPLaw LLP acted as Singapore counsel on the establishment of Hera Capital Partners Holdings VI Pte. Ltd. (“HCPHVI”), a Singapore domiciled fund, and on its investment in Nutrition Technologies. Nutrition Technologies is an AgTech company headquartered in Singapore and operating in Malaysia. Founded in 2014 by two British entrepreneurs, Nick Piggott & Tom Berry, the company manufactures sustainable animal feed ingredients and organic compost, using a unique combination of special selected bacteria and black soldier fly larvae to recycle nutrients from agricultural and food processing by-products. Nutrition Technologies closed a recent funding round of US$5 million, led by Hera Capital Partners, and supported by existing investors, Openspace Ventures and SEEDS Capital (the investment arm of Enterprise Singapore).
