

Our Practice

Our Corporate Advisory Practice Group (CAPG) is a separate and distinct practice group that was set up to enhance the firm's capability to deliver more focused and comprehensive corporate advice. Comprising experienced practitioners from both the corporate and litigation fields, our diverse team draws its unique strength from the collective and varied experience of these practitioners. Leveraging on our understanding of practical issues and varied experience, we demonstrate a distinct advantage over other law firms in protecting and advancing the interests of our corporate clients. Our expertise includes advising on a wide range of issues and problems frequently encountered in a corporate setting. CAPG works with and complements other Practice Groups in the Firm and we have provided advice in the following areas:

- Advising on the composition and operation of the board of directors and its committees, including special committees in corporate transactions involving insiders and affiliates.
- Advising on directors' fiduciary duties, including addressing routine matters, decisions on transactions, financing, equity offerings, other matters occurring outside the ordinary course of business, and directors' duties in hostile and friendly takeovers.
- Advising on directors' personal liability for conduct undertaken on behalf of the corporation.
- Counselling on sensitive internal matters and investigations.
- Advising on executive compensation and termination.
- Advising on shareholders' rights, oppression remedies and derivative actions.

- Negotiating settlements or termination of commercial agreements.
- Advising on pre-litigation strategy and negotiations.
